

N/A / 9 ✓

Strategy: ~~not~~ ~~blat~~ ~~T~~ ~~and~~ ~~not~~

I feel it would be most effective and demoralizing to our enemies if one of the key traitors would disappear totally and without a trace. This could be accomplished with a few people a rented van and some rugs like the "Tupamaros" did in the film we saw. Just come up behind, blackjack him, wrap him in a rug and drive off.

Another approach along the same line would be to get an ambulance some white uniforms and either blackjack him or manhandle him into a straightjacket and give him a quick sedative. People who witness the pick up are less likely to question or interfere if they think we're just picking up another "loony".

I am willing to volunteer to assassinate as many traitors as possible by rifle or poison or any other means and to committ revolutionary suicide before apprehension. I feel with a little training I would stand a good chance to get one or two before removing myself

NIA19

If I could get to a conference of traitors I could detonate myself in their midst and get rid of more.

THANK YOU DA

Peter W.